FOOD FEST COMPETITION

2 September 2023

Objectives:

- Promote cultural understanding and appreciation by showcasing a diverse range of cuisines from different countries and regions.
- Celebrate the joy of food and its role in bringing people together, creating memories, and enhancing quality of life.

Description:

The Food Fest 2023, an inter-batch competition organized on September 2nd, 2023, was a delightful celebration of global gastronomy. Students of the Bachelor of Physiotherapy (BPT) program enthusiastically participated in this mouthwatering event. The event showcased the culinary traditions of G20 countries, with each participating team representing a different nation. The festival featured three vibrant stalls, each named after a distinct country with their flags: France, Italy, and India. Each stall showcased delectable dishes from their respective countries: France featured churros, India offered South Indian delicacies (Idli-Sambhar), and Italy tantalized taste buds with pasta.

The event commenced at 10:00 AM, and the aroma of international cuisine quickly filled the air, attracting students, faculty, and visitors to the fest. The participants, divided into teams of three, each representing one of the three countries, worked diligently to prepare and serve their signature dishes. Participants competed not only in preparing delicious dishes but also in collecting coupons from patrons who enjoyed their culinary creations.

After careful counting, it was revealed that the Indian stall, had amassed the most coupons, making it the undisputed champion of the "G20 Gastronomy Challenge." The team's dedication to serving delectable South Indian dishes had earned them this prestigious title.

The event's success was attributed to the hard work and dedication of the participating students and the organizing committee.
