Seminar on Cancer Rehabilitation – 22nd December 2023 at Banarsidas Chandiwala Institute of Physiotherapy

Objective – The primary objective of this seminar is to explore the various facets of physiotherapy in cancer rehabilitation, including its role in managing treatment-related side effects, enhancing functional abilities, and contributing to the psychosocial well-being of cancer patients. The seminar will also focus on evidence-based practices, emerging trends, and the integration of innovative technologies in physiotherapy for cancer survivors.

Banarsidas Chandiwala Institute of Physiotherapy has organized Seminar on Cancer rehabilitation under supervision of Dr. Jyoti Kataria on 22nd December 2023 at BCIP. Cancer rehabilitation is a critical aspect of holistic cancer care, aiming to enhance the quality of life for individuals affected by cancer. Physiotherapy plays a pivotal role in this multidisciplinary approach, addressing the physical challenges and functional limitations that often accompany cancer and its treatments. The seminar on "Physiotherapy in Cancer Rehabilitation" aims to shed light on the significance of physiotherapy interventions in promoting recovery, improving mobility, and optimizing overall well-being for cancer survivors. This seminar aims to foster a deeper understanding of the integral role that physiotherapy plays in cancer rehabilitation. By addressing the unique physical and emotional challenges faced by cancer survivors, physiotherapists contribute significantly to enhancing the overall well-being and quality of life of individuals on their journey to recovery. Through informative sessions, case studies, and interactive discussions, participants will gain valuable insights into optimizing physiotherapy interventions for better outcomes in cancer rehabilitation.
